Bookings for all comfort classes can be made right up to the time of departure. Depending on the country of origin, some time restrictions may apply to bookings on the date of departure owing to technical reasons.

Check-in:

Your bed, couchette or seat will be kept free for you up to 15 minutes after you board the train. You are therefore kindly requested to go there immediately after departure. As soon as a member of our service crew has clarified all the formalities with you, you are free to move around the train and go to the bar or dining car whenever you wish.

Children:

Children aged up to 5 who are accompanied by a paying adult travel free, but are not entitled to their own bed, couchette or seat. Each bed or couchette may only be used by a maximum of 1 adult plus child, or by 2 children. A separate bed, couchette or seat always has to be booked for children aged 6 or over. Children aged up to 14 pay the supplement for the relevant comfort category for use of their own bed, couchette or seat.

Fares for journeys with City Night Line:

City Night Line trains can be used with all long-distance rail tickets (standard fares, saver fares, Rail&Fly and tickets to/from other countries) on payment of the supplement to reserve the comfort category you require. Please note that supplements and global fares (ticket inclusive of supplement – only available outside Germany) are valid only on the travel date stated and on the booked train and route. If you wish to book a Deluxe sleeping car (compartment with shower and WC), you have to have a 1st class ticket.

Groups:

Reduced-rate tickets plus supplement can be booked for groups of 6 or more. Further information is available from all ticket outlets.

Inspections:

To avoid disturbing your sleep for ticket inspections and passport control, our service staff will take the tickets of passengers in sleeping and couchette cars if necessary – as well as passports / ID cards on international routes with most countries – and return them to you the next morning. Please check that the correct and complete documents are returned to you.

Luggage:

Passengers are allowed to carry hand luggage and one suitcase or travel bag per person. Skis can also be transported free of charge. Luggage can be stored in the space under the beds, couchettes or seats as well as in the stowage areas available. Transportation of luggage which does not fit in these areas cannot be guaranteed. It is more convenient to have your luggage transported to your destination using the courier service (not available in all countries).

Passengers with reduced mobility:

Most City Night Line routes have couchette compartments which are suitable for wheelchair users with adjacent washing and toilet facilities. This compartment is intended for passengers who are dependent on a wheelchair. To book this compartment, passengers with a disabled person's ID card require a ticket and a reservation for a 6-berth couchette. An accompanying person can travel free of charge if the disabled person's ID card (issued in Germany) states the category "B". Owing to the limited space, wheelchairs cannot move around in the City Night Line cars.

Passengers' rights:

For information about compensation levels and additional detailed regulations visit www.bahn.de/fahrgastrechte, www.fahrgastrechte.info or call our hotline at +49 1805 20 21 78 (14 ct/min for landline calls, mobile phone charges max. 42 ct/min).

Information from A to Z

Pets:

Pets can be carried on City Night Line trains only if you book a whole compartment for your private use. Pets are not permitted in the dining car or seated/reclining seat cars. Dogs must be kept on the lead at all times outside the compartment. A flat rate of EUR 30.00 per pet is payable on board the train. Tickets for a pet can also be purchased in advance from Deutsche Bahn.

Power supply:

The sockets in sleeping car compartments are intended only for devices with a low energy consumption (e.g. shavers, mobile phones). Comfortline sleeping cars have a further socket which is also suitable for larger electrical devices (such as laptops). No electric sockets are available at reclining seats and in most couchette cars. City Night Line urgently advises passengers against using medical apparatus and assumes no liability whatsoever in that respect.

Reservations:

Reservations are compulsory for all City Night Line comfort categories. Please note that a reservation for City Night Line does not entitle you to a free seat reservation on any connecting trains before or after your City Night Line journey.

Security on board:

The sleeping and couchette cars have special security facilities which can be used to lock the compartments from inside. The service team will be happy to show you how the system works. Please note that no liability is accepted for your luggage, clothing or any valuables.

Through coaches:

City Night Line trains frequently consist of different sections which run to different destinations. Please pay attention to the announcements and the coach position indicator on the platform. The service staff on the platform will be glad to assist you.
